

The Capital

Bring a grandparent or child for free to make Afternoon Tea at The Capital a real family occasion this Christmas

Fresh from winning a UK Tea Guild Award of Excellence for Top London Afternoon Tea 2013, The Capital Hotel will be introducing a Christmas Family Afternoon Tea every Sunday from 1st December, available from 1pm – 6.30pm. This tea will be priced at £29.50 per adult and £15.00 for the children's tea, and served in the hotel's elegant restaurant. To celebrate the launch of the Family Afternoon Tea, one grandparent or one child (under 12) can enjoy a complimentary tea with every two paying adults. The Christmas Afternoon Tea, created by the Michelin-starred team of acclaimed chef Nathan Outlaw and his head chef, Pete Biggs, will include an array of sandwiches such as smoked salmon and cream cheese, salt beef and English mustard and a turkey roll with cranberry jelly. Sweet treats will include comforting scones with homemade strawberry jam and clotted cream, spiced ginger cake with butterscotch, dark chocolate and Clementine mousse and a chestnut cream tart, amongst others. In addition there will be a tea trolley circulating the room with an extra selection of homemade cakes and festive treats.

The new children's Afternoon Tea menu will feature a selection of sandwiches, cakes and a tea pot of fresh juice or hot chocolate, all beautifully presented on a smaller 2 tier stand.

Located on peaceful Basil Street, between Harrods and Harvey Nichols in Knightsbridge, the family run Capital Hotel provides the perfect haven from a day of Christmas shopping, and is just a stone's throw from Hyde Park for a bracing family stroll before or after Tea. As well as the restaurant and bar, it offers 49 individually decorated bedrooms with an emphasis on English design.
